JOE ANDERIES TO HOST WORKSHOP IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (Feb 25, 2010)----Noted Colorado jazz educator Joe Anderies will be in Los Angeles for a special collaboration with longtime colleague Rob Mullins on Sunday, March 28th at the performance auditorium of Pierre's Fine Pianos. Joe has been on the forefront of the jazz and music education scene for over 20 years having developed his mentoring concepts and "Music Beyond Borders Project" in the elementary schools where he teaches band and orchestra. His concepts have been extended to older students in many jazz camps and workshops around the country. In addition, he has made professional presentations at jazz education conventions and workshops both in the United States and Europe.

On the performance front Joe has continued to perform and record on saxophone and alto flute along with top Denver musicians in between his teaching schedule. He has been collaborating with pianist/composer Rob Mullins for over 32 years in performance, recording and educational venues.

The collaboration on March 28th will feature a one hour jazz education clinic with both Rob and Joe presenting their intersecting concepts on jazz improvisation and composition. All ages are encouraged to attend this unique clinic and presentation. Following the clinic will be a concert performance of the Rob Mullins Quintet featuring Rob on piano, Joe on saxophones and alto flute,

Joe is featured on the following Rob Mullins Recordings: "Spring", "Dreamers", "Mysterious Path." The songs are available on iTunes.
